- 1.3 The chair may, with the consent of a meeting at which a quorum is present (and shall if so directed by the meeting), adjourn the meeting from time to time and from place to place, but no business shall be transacted at an adjourned meeting other than business which might properly have been transacted at the meeting had the adjournment not taken place.
- 1.4 A resolution put to the vote of a meeting shall be decided on a show of hands unless before the show of hands a secret ballot is duly demanded by a majority of the members present.

2. Notice of Meetings

- 2.1. All meetings shall be called by at least 10 clear days' notice but a meeting may be called by shorter notice if it is so agreed prior to or at the meeting by one-third of the members of the National Commodity Board for the time being entitled to attend and vote at such meeting.

3. Minutes

- 3.2. The Council, Governance Board or FFE Board may, on submission of a written request to the secretariat of the National Commodity Board request a copy of the minutes of any meeting of the National Commodity Board from time to time.
- 3.3. The National Commodity Board may publish the minutes of its meetings.

4. Participation in meetings

- 4.1. Members of a National Commodity Board may take part in a meeting of the National Commodity Board by being present in person or by alternate or by attendance electronically in person or by alternate. Participation electronically shall be at the discretion of the chair of the National Commodity Board and shall be by video conference, or online meeting facility or conference telephone or similar equipment designed to allow everybody to take part in the meeting and to exercise their right to vote on any resolution.
- 4.2. Subject to the approval of the chair of the National Commodity Board any meeting of the National Commodity Board may take place exclusively via electronic means or may allow National Commodity Board members to decide whether they will attend a physical meeting in person, or attend the same meeting using electronic means, provided that the manner of holding the meeting and the options for taking part are made clear to all National Commodity Board members and all such members are able to take part in the meeting and exercise their right to vote on any resolution, however they may choose to participate.
- 4.3. Taking part in this way will be treated as being present in person at the meeting. Meetings will be treated as taking place where the largest group of the participants are or, if there is no such group, where the chair is unless the National Commodity Board members decide otherwise.

5. Election of Chairs and Vice-Chairs of the National Commodity Boards

- 5.1. Subject to paragraph 12 of this Part 4, the chair and vice-chair of each National Commodity Board shall be elected by the members of each such board at the first meeting of each board following the Annual General Meeting on a biennial basis, and shall hold office for a period of two years until the beginning of the first meeting of each board two calendar years after appointment.
- 5.2. A member of a National Commodity Board shall be eligible for election as chair or vice-chair of that National Commodity Board in accordance with paragraph 15.4 of the Constitution, whereby any member of the relevant National Commodity Board may be appointed as its chair and vice-chair.

- 5.2. Save with the consent of the Governance Board no person shall act as a chair of any Commodity Board while they hold office as chair of any other Commodity Board.
- 5.3. Subject to the Transitional Arrangements, no chair or vice chair of any National Commodity Board who has served in that capacity for two successive terms shall be re-elected unless they obtain seventy five per cent of the votes cast by the members of the National Commodity Board present and voting when the vote is taken. Where the number of members of the Relevant Board present and voting when the vote is taken is fewer than 20, the chair or vice-chair shall be re-elected if they obtain sixty per cent of the votes cast by said members.
- 5.4. Subject to the Transitional Arrangements, no chair or vice chair of any National Commodity Board may hold that post for a consecutive period of more than six years, but may be re-elected to that post after an interval of at least four years has passed since the date on which they ceased to hold office.
- 5.5. An Officeholder, Director, Regional Director, Director of NFU Cymru or Secretary (or such delegate as any of them may appoint) shall be present at each of the first meetings of the National Commodity Board following the Annual General Meeting to take the chair for the election of the board chair. No alternate may vote on the election of the board chair.
- 5.6. Nominations for the post of chair and vice chair shall be in writing and must be received and circulated to the Board seven days before the election.
- 5.7. If only one person is nominated and is not required to obtain seventy five per cent (rounded down) (or sixty per cent (in accordance with 5.4 above) that person shall be declared elected. If they fail to obtain seventy five per cent of the vote (or sixty per cent of the vote as per 5.4 above) they shall not be elected.
- 5.8. If more than one person is nominated for election and all but one person withdraws, the National Commodity Board shall be given the opportunity to make further nominations. If no further nominations are received the sole candidate shall be deemed elected unopposed. If further nominations are made the ballot shall take place in the normal way. If after further nominations there is more than one candidate for election the ballot shall take place in accordance with the procedures in standing orders 5.9 to 5.13.
- 5.9. Where none of the candidates for election requires a majority of seventy five per cent (or sixty per cent as per 5.4 above), one candidate to be elected must obtain, if necessary by a process of elimination in successive ballots, a simple majority over all other candidates. If more than one ballot is required the candidate with the lowest number of votes shall be eliminated in each ballot together with any other candidate whose votes when added to those of the candidate with the lowest number of votes are less than those for the candidate with the next highest number of votes.

- 5.10. If two candidates are tied on the lowest number of votes and their votes when added together exceed those of the candidate with the next highest number of votes than a separate ballot between them shall be held to eliminate one candidate.
- 5.11. Where one of the candidates requires a special majority the ballot shall proceed in accordance with standing orders 5.9 and 5.10. The requirement for a majority of seventy five per cent (or sixty per cent as applicable) shall not apply in successive ballots until the final ballot when the number of candidates is reduced to two and only if one of them requires a majority of seventy five per cent (or sixty per cent as applicable).
- 5.12. If in a final ballot in accordance with standing order 5.11 a candidate fails to obtain a majority of seventy five per cent (or sixty per cent as applicable) they shall not be elected and are not eligible for re-nomination. New nominations shall be sought from the floor of the meeting and a second election in accordance with standing orders 5.8, 5.9 and 5.10.
- 5.13. If a first ballot results in a tie a second ballot shall be held immediately. If the second ballot results in a tie, within 10 working days the secretary of the National Commodity Board shall conduct a ballot by suitable electronic means of the members of that board who are eligible to vote, in respect of the tied candidates only. If following the ballot the votes between the candidates are still tied, the election shall be decided by the toss of a coin in the presence of the Regional Director or the Secretary.

6. Interests of Members

If a member of a National Commodity Board is interested in any contract or arrangement with the NFU (other than a contract or arrangement generally applicable to the membership) either directly or indirectly, they must notify the secretary of the National Commodity Board on appointment to the National Commodity Board, or immediately on acquiring such an interest, whichever is the earlier. Such member may be counted in the quorum but may not vote in relation to any such contract or arrangement.

7. Appointing alternates to a National Commodity Board

- 7.1. If a member of any National Commodity Board is unable to attend a meeting for a good reason a suitably qualified alternate may be appointed in accordance with standing order 7.3 to attend and, subject to standing order 7.2, vote on their behalf provided that prior notice is given to the secretary of the meeting, and the sending of the alternate, and the name of the alternate, is approved in advance of the meeting by the chair of the meeting. An alternate is to be counted in the quorum at the meeting.

- 7.2. An alternate is not permitted to vote in the election of the chair of any National Commodity Board.
- 7.3. Where a person is a member of a National Commodity Board through election or appointment onto that board by a nominating body, or ex officio by holding a particular role, the nominating body or body that appointed them to that particular role shall appoint that person's alternate. In all other cases, an alternate shall be selected by the member themselves.

8. Chair's Powers

- 8.1. To expedite the business of any National Commodity Board the chair may change the order of precedence from that on the agenda.
- 8.2. The chair may, from time to time invite other members of the NFU, or other suitably qualified person to attend and speak at meetings of the National Commodity Board. Any person so invited shall not have a vote on any motion or discussion.
- 8.3. The chair of the National Commodity Board shall have a casting or second vote on that board which they may use in the event of a drawn vote or ballot. In the case of a drawn vote on an amendment in which the chair declines to use their vote, the amendment fails and the original motion becomes the business under debate. A substantive motion similarly fails if the chair declines to use their second vote. The chair may use their casting vote either for or against the motion regardless of whether or not they voted originally or on which side they used their original vote.
- 8.4. Any person entitled to speak shall address the chair only on the matter under discussion.
- 8.5. The chair of the National Commodity Board may direct any person to stop speaking in the case of any breach of order, continued irrelevance, repetition, or unbecoming language. In the case of persistent disregard of the chair's authority, the chair may order that person to leave the meeting or suspend the sitting.

9. Representative Role of the Chair of the National Commodity Boards

- 9.1. The chair of the relevant National Commodity Board should represent the NFU at COPA or its equivalent (if and in whatever manner NFU shall be invited to attend COPA). However, the relevant National Commodity Board may recommend that another of their members takes on the role. This must be ratified by the Governance Board.

10. Election of second representative from each region

- 10.1. National Commodity Boards established pursuant to paragraph 15.3.1 of the Constitution may have a second representative from each region pursuant to paragraph 15.3.2.2, being up to five members appointed in relation to each region and NFU Cymru, appointed for terms of two years subject to standing order 10.6.

In the event of a casual vacancy amongst the Appointed Commodity Board Members, the selection panel may appoint an additional appointed member to serve in the place of the member who has stepped down, but such person shall only serve until the end of the original appointed member's term of office, at which stage the replacement will step down.
- 11.11. Subject to the Transitional Arrangements, any individuals who have served as appointed members may seek re-appointment to the relevant National Commodity Board or seek election as an elected member of the relevant National Commodity Board, but shall not hold office as a member of the relevant National Commodity Board for a consecutive period of more than six years, but may be re-elected to that post after an interval of at least four years has passed since the date on which they ceased to hold office.

- 6.3 Taking part in this way will be treated as being present in person at the meeting. Meetings will be treated as taking place where the largest group of the participants are or, if there is no such group, where the chair is unless the Board members decide otherwise.

7 Election of Chairs and Vice-Chairs of the Boards

- 7.1 The chair and vice-chair of each Board shall be elected by the members of each such board at the first meeting of each board following the Annual General Meeting on a biennial basis and shall hold office for a period of two years until the beginning of the first meeting of each board two calendar years after appointment.

- 7.9 Where none of the candidates for election requires a majority of seventy five per cent (or sixty per cent as per 7.4 above), one candidate to be elected must obtain, if necessary by a process of elimination in successive ballots, a simple majority over all other candidates. If more than one ballot is required the candidate with the lowest number of votes shall be eliminated in each ballot together with any other candidate whose votes when added to those of the candidate with the lowest number of votes are less than those for the candidate with the next highest number of votes.

If a member of a Board is interested in any contract or arrangement with the NFU (other than a contract or arrangement generally applicable to the membership) either directly or indirectly, they must notify the secretary of the Board on appointment to the Board, or immediately on acquiring such an interest, whichever is the earlier. Such member may be counted in the quorum but may not vote in relation to any such contract or arrangement.

9 Appointing alternates to the Board

- 9.1 If a member of any Board is unable to attend a meeting for a good reason a suitably qualified alternate may be appointed in accordance with standing order 9.3 to attend and, subject to standing order 9.2, vote on their behalf provided that prior notice is given to the secretary of the meeting, and the sending of the alternate, and the name of the alternate, is approved in advance of the meeting by the chair of the meeting. A substantive motion similarly fails if the chair declines to use their second vote. The chair may use their casting vote either for or against the motion regardless of whether or not they voted originally or on which side they used their original vote.
- 10.4 Any person entitled to speak shall address the chair only on the matter under discussion.
- 10.5 The chair of the Board may direct any person to stop speaking in the case of any breach of order, continued irrelevance, repetition, or unbecoming language.
